

SKY LOVES ADVENTURES

WILDLIFE | CONSERVATION | REAL-WORLD ADVENTURE

REAL WILDLIFE. REAL ADVENTURE. REAL STORIES.

Sky B is a British commercial photojournalist, filmmaker, presenter and Biology and Environmental Science graduate. From photographing elephants over Botswana's Okavango Delta to sailing to Brazil and searching the Pantanal for jaguars, he turns real expeditions, conservation work and medical missions into cinematic human stories.

WHY SKY

- Four self-driven journeys around Namibia, Uganda and Botswana expeditions, plus flights over the Okavango Delta photographing elephants.
- Sailed across the Atlantic to Brazil and searched the Pantanal for jaguars while learning about jaguar-identification projects.
- Wildlife medical work with African vets, plus pro-bono surgeons in Los Angeles and a medical mission in Honduras - including operating-room coverage.
- Magazine-published work including Rolling Stone, with healthcare and homelessness nonprofits across Los Angeles.
- Returning in November 2026 to shoot 13 Namibia eco-conservancy lodges, joining more than 15 already documented.
- Professional Canon photographer and videographer with 12+ years of production experience.
- End-to-end creator: research, presenting, photography, filming, sound, editing and colour grading.
- YouTube Partner with a documentary-first voice and a growing library of evergreen stories.
